

MESSAGE FROM THE ANVC PRESIDENT

We are excited to share with you ANVC's 2022 educational programming! As the only international stroke-specific professional organization for non-physicians, we have put together offerings to meet all your learning and certification needs, offered at a variety of times, and including both virtual and in-person options. ANVC aims to empower neurovascular clinicians with the knowledge and skills to support optimal outcomes #becausestrokepatientsdeservenothingless. Your feedback has played a major role in the selection of these topics, the methods of delivery offered, and the scope of the educational programming that we will provide this year.

ANVC was created by YOU, thrives on YOUR contributions, and exists to support YOUR stroke clinical and leadership excellence. We hope you will not only join us for several learning opportunities, but also get involved in ANVC. Whether as a future speaker, an author, a committee member, an industry-partner, a learner, or an organizational leader, we value the gifts of your service, the care you bring to the bedside, and the wisdom you contribute to grow neurovascular knowledge.
